As the world changes around us; Eastern Europe breaking free and several reforms in South Africa, here at Gould we continued to learn and do more for the world around us. The students shown here display their dedication and enthusiasm in participating in enriching our Global Awareness.

Here we are again displaying our dedication and enthusiasm in enriching activities. These pictures show us reaching beyond the Gould campus in our quest for knowledge. Portfolio Day in Boston, whale watching in Newburyport, MA, Habitat for Humanity in CT, and skiing for disabled persons in NH. We also had visitors from as far as the Soviet Union to share with us their experiences. We're glad that we had these opportunities to see life from so many different angles and represented through so many different cultures.

Faculty

We have highlighted Oxford University, not because our teachers went there, but because our teachers have given us more knowledge than available even at Oxford. The student and faculty relationships at Gould are so unique, almost to the point of being indescribable unless you have experienced them. The senior class would like to thank our faculty for all the knowledge they have shared with us over the years.

Oh no! Here comes Mr. Jones charging down the hall and boy does he look mad. "You fail! No ifs, ands, or buts about it!" Sound familiar? It shouldn't, not at Gould anyway.

"Oh here comes Mr. Jones. I have to ask him if we can talk about my test. I don't think I did too well. I also have to ask him if we can bake cookies at his house later." Sounds much more familiar, right?

Underclasspeople and Dorms

The underclasspeople are not very different in levels of maturity and intelligence from the seniors, but there are little differences.

For example, 389 days from now, juniors can look forward to going to bed at 11:00 in those rooms which they got to pick first. In around 778 days, sophomores can feel the panic and anxiety as they check their mail for those last minute acceptance, rejection, or, the worst, waitlist letters. Freshmen, in 1167 days will be bouncing off the wall after four years.

It is bound to be an interesting, adventurous and learning experience. Enjoy yourselves!

Living in dorms at Gould Academy is a lesson in getting along with people for a year at a time. In Holden, the Tarzan wanna-bees swing from door to door and display amazing Neanderthal characteristics. Their counterparts, the Gehring Queens of the Nile, spend all day preparing themselves for the float across Church Street to the jungle mating grounds, THE VORTEX. As for Davidson, The Darkest Jungle, its residents prefer to exhibit their maturity by hanging out of tress in their front yard. Last but not least are the Outhouses; self explanatory. Day students are the exceptions to all the laws of the jungle.

DAVIDSON

Boys' Side

Although Davidson was by far the strictest dorm, it was also the best. The third floor was the most dreaded because of Brian Walker's ability to "crack the whip". (When he wasn't playing with his fish of course.) The second floor was the only co-ed floor at school, not to mention the only TV lounge/ massage parlor. The first floor, run by Steve "The Nightprowler" Sanborn, served well as the emergency entrance for those who were late for in-dorms. And how could we forget our loving dorm parents, the Fords? Mrs. Ford who gave us donuts after fire drills and Mr. Ford who was kind enough to walk his dogs around outside the dorm in the middle of the night to make sure we were getting the rest we needed.

Girls' Side

Men . . . boys . . . guys everywhere . . . except for nine women on the second floor of Davidson. It was tough, but we did it. Sometimes we had to walk on forbidden ground to ask for a little piece from above, but we always got what we wanted. Although the Thursday morning "Gossip" table fizzled out in the winter, it was fun while it lasted. No one ever griped about the strict study halls, white-glove room inspections, or countless restrictions that Heidi and Brett doled out day after day either. (It's a tough job but someone's got to do it, right?) Thanks to Mr. Ford for listening to our concerns and ideas and remember, it's better than Gehring!

GEHRING

Gehring, the palace of the Queens of the Nile? Well, it sounds good in theory anyway. Gehring, Crisis Center is more appropriate. It's pretty much like the jungle in Gehring. The Queens fighting over make-up, clothes, hair, hairspray, and of course members of the opposite sex. Our laid back proctors played the role of lion tamers. Late night popcorn parties, toothpaste on the door, powder and perfume in beds are all aspects of Gehring life. The aspects we like the best are the cold showers, lack of heat, and late night fire drills. We have some good times too. Birthdays are a blast, decorated doors, and wake-up serenades. Secret Santas are unique to Gehring; everyday during exam week we are cheered up by a little gift. We have our late night gossip sessions which always produce some laughs. We also have our faithful mascot, Roadway. Well, its all part of the trials and tribulations of being a female in Gehring. It's hard sometimes, but it's home.

HOLDEN

A walk through Holden is like a walk through the pages of the latest GQ. Dashing young intellectuals in fierce philosophical debates, strapping young atheletes carrying their lacrosse sticks through plush Victorian surroundings. Maybe not, but it has some similarities. We love lacrosse sticks, but they are usually being used as clubs. Our philosophical debates are usually over the question of "What is the point of having clean rooms?" The vortex may not be plush or Victorian, but it has a big screen T.V., pool table, ping pong table, fooseball table, and get this, a Pepsi machine. You won't find that in a GQ. Only in Holden.

ZALLEN AND BROWN

BROWN

Brown House was the home of Luis Aguilar, Josh Fialkoff, Jose Samayoa, Rob Rhu, Andy Levi, and Chris Graber during the 1989-1990 school year. We didn't feel like being treated like underclassmen, so here we built the society that we wanted. We felt we were old enough to live without a procter, old enough to take charge of our community service, and old enough to tuck ourselves into bed. We lived the way we wanted, and the way life should be, basically responsible for our own actions and having a cool time. We'd like to thank the Hills for letting us take charge of ourselves and all the little things. We hope you guys do well.

ZALLEN

All right. Well first of all Lee knows everything. Nobody really knew anybody else at the beginning of the year. But things worked out well, and we settled down to a rousing game of cheese balls. Alex and Brian moved in mid-year and turned out all right.

Aside from the occasional fights twixt Tao and John, Lee and John, Lee and Tao; things went smoothly enough. As Bo would say, "A well oiled machine." So here's to spit, toilet, jeans, towel, and of course, the dog Willy.

Thank you, Messrs. Lorenzo P. Baker the III and IV and Mrs. Baker.

And thank you, maintenance for the G.A. chair chained to the kayak.

And to the frogs, the water in Tao's bed, and Larry Bird, who we all know is the greatest (right Lee?) Thanks Lee for ruining all the songs we ever liked.

DAY STUDENTS

Ah, home again. All the cozy comforts of our own rooms, our t.v.'s, and our cupboards of food.

No restrictions, no lights out. We even get longer than 15 minutes to brush our teeth!

And in the morning a hot shower and all our clothes to choose from. To many at Gould, it sounds like a dream. A dream they experience only a couple months a year. But to us day students, it's reality.

Sure, it's nice to be home at the end of the day, but think of what we miss, late night gossip sessions, loud music to keep us up when we want to sleep, and of course the excitement of a cold shower to really wake us up.

I guess we're stuck with watching t.v. late at night, reading, or even eating a midnight snack. I think we've learned to handle it without losing touch with Gould.

Seniors

For reasons we do not all understand, we have travelled great distances to be here. Our senior class spans the continent and beyond. We have been thrown into the New World of Gould with a variety of backgrounds and customs, much like the explorers coming to the New World centuries before. Much like our ancestors we have had some struggles along the way, but we have made it, and we are proud of our accomplishments. Our senior class has excelled both in and out of the classroom. Work hard and play hard is our motto.

It is time for us to head out into the REAL WORLD. Thanks to Gould, we have learned about responsibility, and what is necessary to become adults. With our experience and knowledge in hand, we are ready for what lies ahead. We hope we are prepared for the REAL WORLD, and more importantly, we hope that world is ready for us!

LAURA HUNTER

"To laugh is to risk appearing the fool. To weep is to risk appearing sentimental. To reach out to another is to risk involvement. To express feeling is to risk exposing your true self. To place ideas and dreams before a crowd is to risk their loss. To love is to risk being loved in return. To live is to risk dying. To hope is to risk despair. To try is to risk failure but risks must be taken because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing. The person who asks nothing does nothing. Has nothing and is nothing. They may avoid suffering and sorrow, but they can not learn, feel, change, grow, love, live. Chained by their attitudes, they are slave they have forfeited their freedom. Only a person who risks is free." - Anonymous

HEIDI VAN WINKLE

During my three years at Gould I had a most excellent time making good friends, playing sports, and learning, both academically and internally. I couldn't have had such a good time without all of my friends and I'd like to thank you guys.

Brett, the girl that I thought was such a nerd because you had a Webster's Basic Reference Collection. Well, now I have one. You're a great friend and thanks for all of your support throughout the years. See you soon! I don't think I could have made it without you, Lorenzo. Thank you for everything you've done. I'll be back to visit.

Molly G.- I'll miss you, hang in there. You kept me the nerdy Heidi I should be.

Don't cut your hair again, Caleb. You're awesome.

Heidi- Friends like you come along once. The older we get, the better we get. I'll see you soon.

PRK- keep listening for the train.

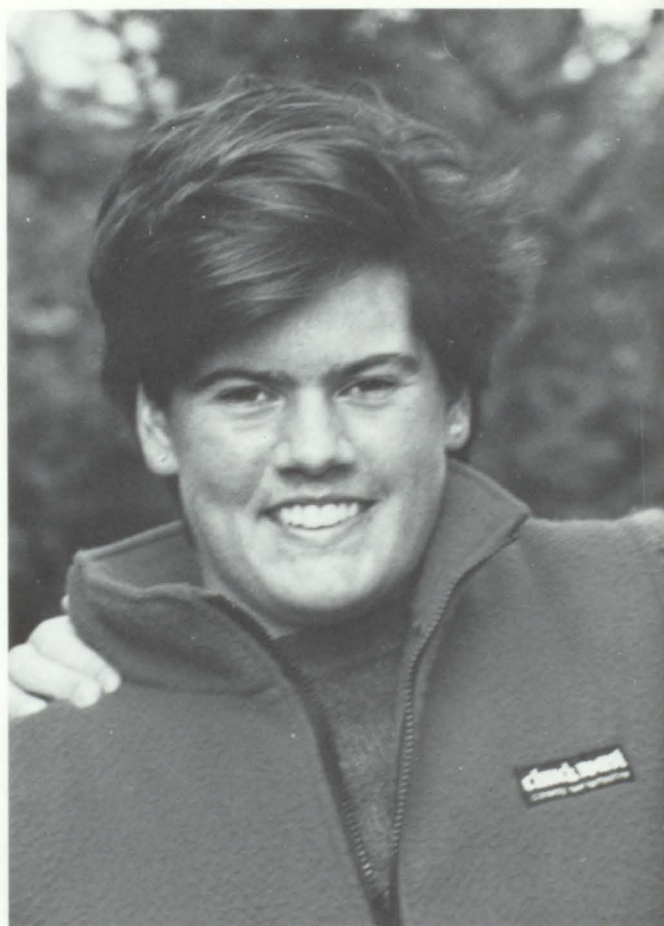

Rob- I'll definitely miss you and when we meet again, let's not play ping pong.

Head- Thanks for your support, the fun, and the bowling. I hope that you only become stranger.

Mr. Hill- Don't let too many of those sophmores scar themselves.

To all true krod- Keep the faith.

There is something for everyone here at Gould: Soccer, Field Hockey, Cross Country Running, Golf, Skiing (anything you could possibly want to do with skis is available), Basketball, Tennis, Biking, and lastly Lacrosse. Sports at Gould are available for anyone desiring to play, no matter what level. There is always something offered. The coaches are understanding and manage to make the students play hard while still having fun. Playing for the enjoyment of the sport is emphasized, not necessarily overcoming the opponent. Certain teams have more of a reputation or stereotype than others. For example, Golf is for wimps, Men's Varsity Lacrosse is made up of jocks and meatheads, and Alpine skiers are demi-gods, in their own minds.

Conquering Everest is no more difficult than conquering Berwick, Hyde, or Hebron, but with the help of coaches the likes of Wight, Graham, Head, Gardner, Dohrmann, and Taylor, the teams are able to overcome the Great Wall of opponents.

R U N ?

OK YOU GUYS! You stuck Me, a first year runner who is desperately trying to deal with mediocracy, with the write up. I wasn't even a captain. My observations as a first year runner. Definately Different.

There were many, many interesting outfits ie. tights, also Mud Runs, and interesting fact finding discussions. Max did not untie his running shoes throughout the season, slip on slip off. Along with Jason Boyd, they lost their sneakers in the infamous MAISAD Mud. Observation number two: More injuries than any contact sport I've ever played in. Co-captain, Ferrell's knees refused to run, and super star Kevie-D's shins screamed in agony whenever he tried to run. The disease was contagious but Jason Walz managed to shake it off in time to run in MAISAD's.

The foreign factor increased and did extremely well this year. Masa, "Hey look, there's a worm!"

As a senior who can't possibly imagine telling something inticing about everyone, I leave you all with the memories and the request that you hopefully will fulfill the legacy, to run faster and have more fun than any other team.

It's been phun and Hey, Somebody had to write this thing!

GOLF TEAM TEES OFF WITH STYLE

Long holes and tough putts, rainy days and unmoved fairways caused the golf team to surrender to many teams. The golf team's definite potential was shown through Jesse Berger, Matt Karatz, Harmon Stinson, Sanford Fogg, Greg Wildes, and a newcomer Jason Walega. Our team did show some intimidation when playing Carabasset Valley Academy. Our coach helped a little, but the golf carts helped more.

Good Luck to Matt Karatz, Jesse Berger, John Kern, and Ben Anderson in the U.S. open for life.

BEWARE OF HEAD INJURIES

The Women's 1989 Field Hockey team had a solid season. Besides the five seniors, Brett, Holly, Laura, Ginny, and Merritt, the team was fairly young. Despite the fact that we lost many players due to injury, we were able to work together and pull through with a successful season. Thanks to Mrs. Gardener and Jill. We wouldn't have done it without you.

Good luck next year. Try not to lose it in the last 30 seconds and warning: beware of head injuries.

TONS OF FUN!

This year's junior varsity girls field hockey team had an interesting season. Several of our games were cancelled due to weather conditions. Near the end of the season, most of the team substituted in to varsity games for injured players. We scored no goals until Parents' Weekend. We all pulled together then and showed them what we were made of, when Holly Walega scored. It was a truly successful occasion. We had tons of fun throughout the season, practicing with the varsity team and giving Mrs. Gardner a hard time.

A HARD FOUGHT SEASON

The Men's Varsity Soccer Team finished off the season with a record of 6-2-2. Each game was hard fought with every player giving 100 percent throughout the entire season. We had a lot to prove to the rest of the league in that we were a strong team despite the low number of returning players. Solid goal keeping and heads up defense combined with a quick offense and never give up attitude enabled us to finish with an excellent record. The teams leading scorers were Blair Wood and Tom Pena. A special thanks to Mr. Wight, Mr. Newell, Vanessa, and everyone who came out to support us.

AWARDS: Sportsmanship- Shane Robinson

Most Improved- Tim Williams

Second row: R. Todd, M. Fitzgerald, P. Lothridge, Z. Aldrich, M. Vincent, R. Stein, B. Wood (captain).

J.V HAS OUTSTANDING SEASON

The team, led by Tom Landers and Harvey Vicioso, had a strong defense and an outstanding offense. The team also had strong spirit and that is what led it to have an unbelievable 10-1 record. There were many high points of the season, but the low was the unfortunate loss to Hebron. One high point, which clearly stands out was George TenHave's half field score against Kents Hill on the Fall Parents Weekend. Other high points were the high scoring games against Telstar and Hyde. These games, pointed the team in a positive direction which is why the overall record turned out so well. Good job and "Yeah boyz!"

Rear: W. Carter (mgr), C. Dickinson, A. Bernstein, B. Ramirez, P. Piltz, B. Johnson (coach).

A TRYING, BUT TYING SEASON

The JJV Men's Soccer team, led by Mr. Cousins as coach and captain Jon Rogers, compiled a 1-4-1 record. The team greatly improved from the beginning of the season, which started with a 8-0 loss to Gorham, N.H. The team peaked with an exciting 4-0 shutout victory over Waynflete.

By the end of the season, Eric Grierson scored 8 goals, while Guillaume de Ramel and Greg Kaufman each scored 1. Goalie Josh Bramble blocked many shots on goal and had the team's only red card.

Thank you Mr. Cousins and manager Louis Lorenzana.

Coaches Award: Greg Kaufman

FUN, YET NOT CONQUERING

Despite losing some of our players due to graduation and x-country running we managed to still have fun, if not an overwhelmingly victorious season. With Miss Head and Bon Gardner as coaches, how could we go wrong? Through many injuries the team was able to pull through and play the hardest they could. Our goal was to do well in MAISADS, which we did even though we were consistent in our place, 4th. We fought the cold and icy mud against Hyde but through a fluke of nature they scored one more goal than we did and went on to play Berwick. During this game, Joanna was our hero while playing with a broken foot and Martha, our fearless goalie, had her foot crushed and both were forced to sit out the next game. Needless to say we played our hardest and came home content knowing this. Our record doesn't do our team justice but I feel confident that everyone remembers the fun we had- Trout Fishing In America Lives On!

HUSKIES CONQUER BUCKS

This year's team started the year off with a starting line up of mostly veterans from the 88-89 season. The team had one of its finest seasons within the past few years.

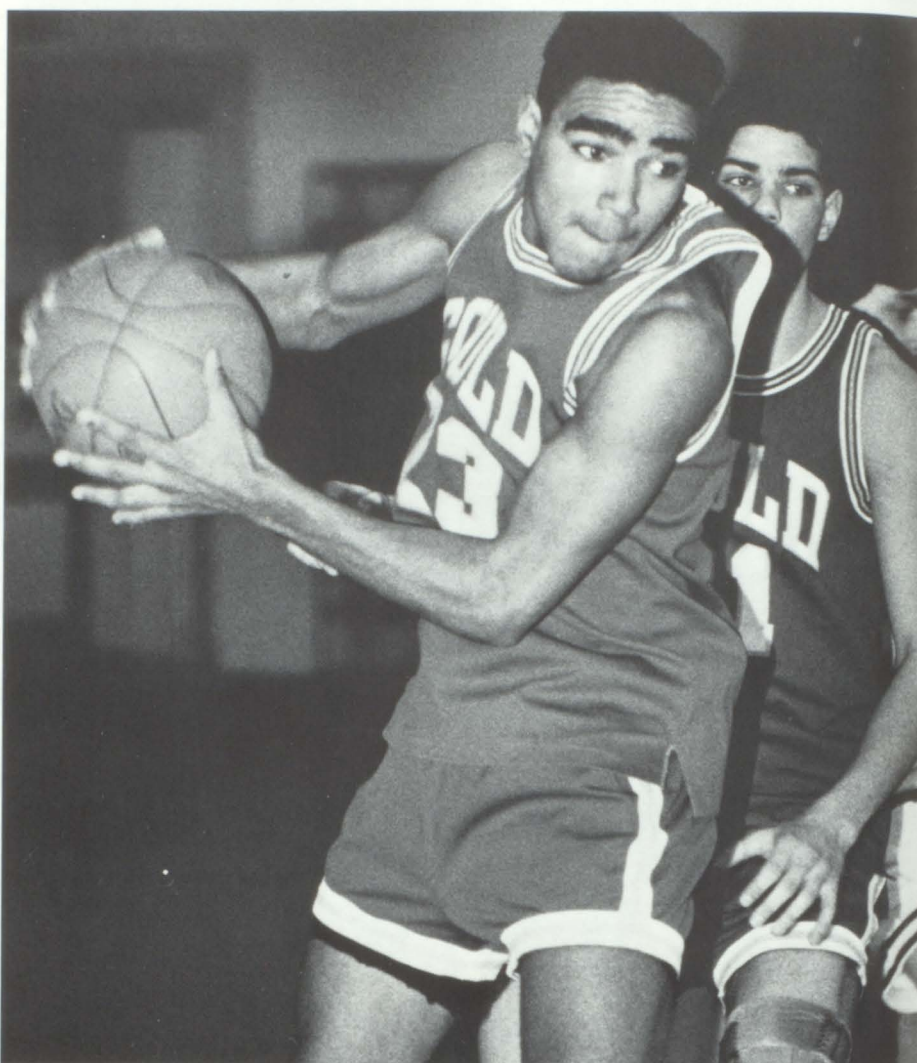

Some highlights of this great season included: the game against Waynflete, when Tom Pena set a Gould record by shooting seven 3 point shots in one game. The team had some great wins including the win against Hyde and the time when we were finally able to conquer a home victory against the Buckfield "Bucks."

We were able to go into the Augusta tournament with a strong head on our shoulders because of our 11-5 record. Unfortunately we were faced against Rangeley for the second time in the playoffs. For some unknown reason Rangeley seems to have Gould's number and was able to defeat us even though they had a much weaker team. The Men's Varsity Basketball team should have another strong season next year, considering that they will only be losing one player, Tom Pena, who was the top scorer for the season with 681 points. The team could never have done as well as they did without the help of Coach Dohrmann and Assistant Coach Walker.

"MOTION" GODDESSES

INTENSITY!! We may not have made it to the basketball tournament in Augusta this year, but our team improved a lot as the season continued and we won some gallant victories over Rangeley and Kent's Hill. And...most importantly each stunning player on our team, even our few slow learners, learned how to run "motion," "green," and "blue." Not only did we have fun on the court, we had some memorable "rockin" bus rides on those bumpy Maine roads, and some super CHUNKY chicken salads at McDonalds.

We'd like to thank our studly coach, Mr. Johnson, for his guidance and support. We also thank Rebecca Marron, our manager, for all of her help and always cheering us on! And now a few memorable words- Mr. Johnson, How do you run blue again?..Do we have any oranges Rebecca?..Jen, YOUR

HAIR LOOKS FINE!!...Mika, watch your shorts and that faucet...Don't worry Sue, you'll grow into it someday...Molly, can I have a swig of your baby bottle?...Megan, "Bus the Moves!"...Chrissy, the bus and 1,2,3???...Liz, can't we sing you to sleep?...Jo-Jo, can you share yours with us?...Kate, Why are you dribbling out of bounds?

Thanks to everyone, and remember, WE ARE ALL GODESSES!!! Next year Augusta!!!

JV TEAMS PULL THROUGH

Women's JV Basketball

The Women's JV team had a rough season, winning only three games. We had several obstacles to overcome, including losing a few players and our coach, Mr. Hill, having to leave the team in mid-season due to illness. However, when faced with a challenge, we came together as one masterfully, magnificent, mischievous team. Our record won't go down in history, but we pulled through. Special thanks to Mr. Hill for his time and effort.

Men's JV Basketball

The JV team proved to be stiff opposition for all teams in the league. They weren't as successful as the previous "Bad Boy" team, due to the fact that there were many first time ball handlers. But all-in-all we ended up with a record of 8-5. The team consisted of; Louie, Jason, Shane, John, Marty, Josh, Harvey, Jim, and Mike. The leading scores were Louie and Jason. Our coach Brian Walker and the prettiest manager in the league, Karyn. Thank you both, we had a great season. We would also like to thank our loyal spectators for their support.

Coaches Award: Jason Portal

SHAKING HANDS FOR GOULD

"What a long, strange trip it's been..." Although this phrase came to refer specifically to the team's climactic odyssey throughout Vermont for the Prep School Championships, in hindsight, it could be applied to the entire season as well. After all, who could have predicted that at the end of February we would still have more snow than all last year! Or that the biggest obstacle this season wouldn't be from Holderness or Fryberg, but from a mono epidemic right here at Gould. For that matter, who would have predicted that Willy Somma, in her first year of Nordic skiing, would prove to be the hero of the prep schools. Well, it all happened, and despite losing half of our skiers at one time or another to sickness, and repeated encounters with unfriendly snow banks, we managed to repeat as MAISAD and New England Prep School Champs.

The season started with our annual fall training camp to the West Yellowstone where we shook our share of hands for Gould, handing out thousands of brochures to anyone who would take them. We also managed to get some incredible skiing in and got pre-season practice at van pushing, a skill that would prove crucial as the season progressed.

The key to this year's success, though, lay not in strange circumstance, but in the skiers themselves. Everyone, "vets" and "upstarts" alike, contributed with their enthusiasm. The boys varsity was led by seniors Max and Kevin, and by the midseason acquisition of Brian, who wound up qualifying for the JO'S (not to mention a round of saheeb from everyone). And, despite his poor taste in food (hot dogs and cheez-its) and TV addiction, the frosh Guillaume proved himself to be a future team leader.

Seniors and alpine converts Monika and Willy, along with junior Martha skied well for the girls team all season, winning most of the races. The convalescent couple Jason and Adrienne, gathered their strengths for the Prep Schools, providing important finishes for the overall victory.

Things to remember: Team Go Power, the stagecoach, Wyoming Runs, counting the number of times the Dartmouth Team said "HI" to Kevin, SNL quotes, Le Shack D'Amour, and our fifteen minutes of fame with Evening Magazine. And of course, we couldn't have done it without our coaches. Thanks.

SLIDING DOWN HILL: ALPINE AND JUMPING

Alpine "A" Team

Physical standards? Are you kidding? We're skiers not athletes.

Where's Uel? Who's Reg? Yea, I guess he's cool.

The Gould Ski Team was lucky enough to have a disabled team this year consisting of Laura Gibbons, and Chafik. Seth Schneider and Lelo Reeves joined them for a while.

We had another successful Ski-A-Thon this year. Sara have you handed your pledges in yet?

Both the A and B Ski Teams won the Maisad Championships. The men took second in the New England Champs, and the women's Craftmatic team took third.

It was nice having a freshman on the team this year as long as she doesn't beat us.

So goodbye to all the seniors and good luck in your hitch hiking future.

As I always say, if you want to ski well, then you should buy a pair of gloves or your hands will get cold, as I always say.

Good luck to all the underclassman and have fun with Reg if he gets to stick around. Thanks to Sue, Lauren, and Reg for a great season!

Though weather conditions were not always perfect, we were able to get

Circuit a number of times this season.
Special thanks to coaches Mr. Wight and Mr. McGuire for going the extra mile and insuring that the hill was always in top shape. we couldn't have done it without them.

TOO SHORT A SEASON

VARSITY

The 1990 Lacrosse season was a tough one for the Men's Varsity Lacrosse Team. The short season due to weather was not a help. By the end of the season when everyone else was finishing up, we were just starting. We played the best in our last four or five games. If we had played that well in the beginning, ours would have been a different story.

Our 5-6 record does not accurately show how we played as a team. Our offense was one of the best, and we had equal scorers on midfield and attack. The same could be said for the defense, led by goalie Sanford Fogg, who is the best goalie in the MAISAD league. With only six returning players, the Varsity will be looking to the Champion JV team for support in the 1991 season.

J.V.

The J.V.Lacrosse season was excellent. Our good spirits and team effort made us a force to be recond with. We finished the season with a 15-0 record. Our great success was largely due to our coach, Mr. Rackliffe, who was very supportive throughout the season and made us willing to work our hardest. Thanks Mr. R.

J.J.V.

The JJV Lacrosse team ended its season in a most enjoyable two game playoff in the JV Tournament. This year, a few records were set at the JJV level. Paul Koubek probably spent an hour total in the penalty box. Jason Portal dropped enough shots to win every game twice over and Dan Wagner tried to score for the other team but only succeeded once. The whole team agrees that this was a great learning season and that no one will ever use one hand to scoop up ground balls again. The team would also like to thank Coach Walker for his guidance and short practices and no campus clean-up.

FEW ERRORS, MUCH PRIDE

The women's softball team walks away from the 1990 season with many victories. Although some may be unofficial victories, they may prove to be the most memorable. To begin the season, we climbed from a late start, compared to the Telstar schedule, and played competitively with a strong yet unsuspecting Telstar team. Telstar came out on top as far as runs, however, they did not go away with the same pride in which they came. Gould claimed the moral victory. We had played sound softball against one of the states most competitive teams and kept our heads.

Despite the few games we played this year we were able to cut down our errors significantly and improve our batting immensely. We all felt a little personal pride as well as team pride in our performance and perseverance.

MAISADs were easily ours after winning the first two of three games with Hebron Academy being our only contender. It was a perfect reward and end for a season of much improvement, a little hard work, and much fun.

AN ENJOYABLE SEASON

The cycling team this year had a fairly good season. The team consisted of mainly first time bike racers, but a great deal of progress was made by everyone. Senior Matt Aeschliman did well in all of his races placing second in most, losing a few times by a matter of inches. The joint coaching squad of Mr. White, Mr. Baker, Dr. Dresser, and Mr. Siegel helped make the season a productive one.

UNDEFEATED MAISAD CHAMPS

The Women's Varsity Lacrosse team had an excellent season conquering all opponents except Colby's JV, and going on to win the MAISAD tournament for the first time. As a result of many graduating Seniors last year, the team had many new players. Prospects for the season were unknown at the beginning. However, the team easily united, and went on to become a winning machine. Both offense and defense improved a great deal and became almost invincible thanks to the wonderful coaches, Mrs. Gardner and Miss Head and incredible captains Monika Burk, Brett White, and Willy Somma. One word of advice for next year, don't let Mrs. Gardner play on the field because injuries are bound to happen. GO NUTS GOULD!

The JV Women's LaCrosse Team had a very successful season. Although most of the players were new to the game, the skills necessary for success were easily mastered. Seniors Ginny Farrington and Cosima Hohenlohe as well as Freshman Amy Todd gave the team great depth. Junior Karyn Steensra showed great potential as goalie. The Varsity was so strong that many JV players got ample opportunity to substitute in Varsity games, including a mass substitution of the JV team in the Waynefleete game.

Many of this year's team will add greatly to the varsity in the years to come.

SET FOR WINNING

MEN'S VARSITY

This year's tennis team proved to be a fine collection of players. The team's record of 8-2 displayed not only the talent and enthusiasm of the players; but also the hard work and dedication which each individual put forth. The team's success largely resulted from a senior dominated team: Philip Piltz, Jesse Berger, Matt Karatz (captain), Greg Brown, Rick Peabody, and Mark Vincent. Many returning veterans from last season's team helped earn an overall finish of second place. An extraordinary performance was shown by the German exchange student, Philip Piltz - extending his record to 8 wins and 1 loss.

WOMEN'S VARSITY TENNIS

Varsity Women's Tennis was coached by Tami Johnson. She is a wonderful coach when she is not running her sadistic drills (one person behind the net while the rest of the team wails balls at them.)

We did not have a winning season, our record was 2-4, but it was fun. We were a young team with only two returning players, Holly Hammond and Molly Hoover, and fairly little experience at the start of the season. The outcome of the MAISAD tournaments reflects the time we put into improving our game. Nicole Brown, the number 1 singles player, made it to the semi-finals. Unfortunately, Holly Hammond, having just recovered from an injury, was knocked out in the first round. The doubles team of Molly Russell and Kate Callahan made it to the semi-finals. Molly Hoover and Lauren Romo advanced to the finals and lost in a close (4-6), (6-4), (4-6) three set match.

JV TENNIS

It is difficult to put into words the excitement and awe inspiring power surrounding a JV tennis match or tennis practice. Well, that might be a slight exaggeration, but they are at the very least, interesting and always somewhat amusing. The season went well with a great deal of progress being made by all under the skilled coaching of Steve and Linda Chandler. The final record was three wins and two losses, ending with a winning match against Hebron. A good amount of effort was put in by all team members to make this winning season possible.

Activities

The activities at Gould are as diverse as the cultures of South America. The activities take place during the activity period after lunch, or after classes. The students and faculty volunteer their services to these activities. Our creative faculty and students have developed some interesting activities such as model rocketry, circus skills, bee keeping, fly tying, and cricket. There are not very many schools that offer an hour a day for opportunities such as ultimate frisbee, and other activities more philanthropic such as the Environmental Awareness Committee, Reachout, and Big Brothers, Big Sisters.

These groups participate in programs to make us more globally and environmentally aware. For example, the Environmental Awareness group carried around all of the trash they made as it accumulated for a week.

All of the offerings provide students with the opportunity to participate in activities that they normally would not have the chance to explore.

Service Group

"Service is our motto."

The Service Group became an activity through student interest evolving from last year's activity period. It's primary concern is to involve students, on a volunteer basis, in areas outside of the Gould community. This fall they participated in many activities. Among these were; trail maintenance, wood stacking for elderly people, Consortium, blood mobile, leaf raking for the Bethel area, and they helped with our x-country trail construction. On the days that they were not involved with helping others, they had fun rock climbing, canoeing, hiking, and swimming, which included pulling the Gould raft out of Songo Pond. They all had a good time, especially with the knowledge that they were making a difference in other people's lives. Steve Sanborn, the advisor, feels that a lot was accomplished and hopes to continue this Service Group in the future.

YEARBOOK

Editors Alice Colyear and Molly Hoover spent their afternoons this fall developing the ideas that put this book into your hands. Along with spending huge amounts of creative energy, they also became skilled at writing copy, drawing layouts, prying yearbook contributions out of seniors and team captains, and learning some geography. (Where is Ireland?) Thanks also to the artistic talents of Margery Hersh and Mike O'Meara, the staff began the winter term well into the production of a quality yearbook.

FRANCAIS A LA GOULD

The Medicine Show

The exciting adaption of Moliere's Le Medcin Malgre Lui was performed by Gould's drama group this fall. In the farce, Moliere shows his skill at criticizing the professionals; especially doctors of his time, the 17th century.

Oren Murphy starred as the lazy, egocentric wood cutter Sganarelle, a role some call typecasting. Marlies Ouwinga, as his shrewd wife brought new meaning to the phrase 'nagging housewife'. Veterans Jeff McCarthy and Andrea Pillsbury helped make the play the success that it was. We have several newcomers added to the cast including great performances by Garret Siliman, Darcy Winn, Nicole Brown, Scott Willingham, and an unforgettable performance by David Torruella.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF AN AUTHOR

Senior Matt Alexander gave a hilarious performance as an author who is overcome as problem after problem is dumped upon him.

Veterans Kate Chester, Jeff McCarthy, and Alesia Norling gave marvelous performances as interferences in the author's life.

The play would not have been half the success it was without newcomers Sewall Lee, Christine Tomah, Amy Fall, Bill Giudice, Chris Drake, Dan Bornstein, Scott Willingham, and David Torruella.

Assembly, 7:45 in the morning! Everyone is still half asleep and not quite ready to face another day. We look forward to having an interesting, noisy, or funny assembly to wake us up before going to classes.

This year assemblies, on the whole, have been worthwhile. There weren't too many long drawn-out ones that people used to get 15 minutes more of much needed sleep. Our eardrums came alive with Caleb, Pat, and Mike. Mr. Ford always managed to make people sit up straighter in their seats. We also had our good friend Steddy, many slide shows with good music, Paul Lothridge's video, the infamous Nowweknow awards, various pleas for help, and many informative assemblies about our environment, reachout, and international travel experiences.

YULEFEST

It was the night before Christmas vacation and all through the dorms, everyone was packing up a storm, or so the story goes. At the end of a long week of mid-year exams, Yulefest brought the school together one last time before the much needed Christmas break. Traditionally the students direct and present a version of St. George and the Dragon, but this year there was one change made; the faculty directed and presented the play. It was a lively cast of characters starring Brian Walker as St. George and Gary Hill as the dragon.

The chorus also played a dominant part in the Yulefest celebration, singing carols before and after the performance. The freshmen trio of Sam Langlois, Jill Nowak, and Darcy Burnell were in action once again singing several pieces to round out the evening. This combination of performances made the celebration a great way to end the first term with a feeling of unity and high spirits.

MARTIN LUTHER KING DAY

JUNIORS AND SENIORS

The juniors and seniors travelled by bus, to Portland, to see the production of The Island by the Portland Stage Company. It was a moving experience for all to see the life of two men in a South African prison. The mood was conveyed by minimal use of props and the fact that there were only two characters making up the entire cast. Their interaction and conversations gave the viewers the factual background and circumstances leading up to their imprisonment and the emotions that guided them. After the play, one of the actors and a woman from the Portland Stage Company held a discussion with the audience about the play and any other questions they had. It was very informative, including the fact that the actor took part in the play because he needed the money. We ended the day with lunch at the Eastern Promenade Park along the ocean, and many of us played on the various playground equipment. It was an enjoyable day for all, both a change in schedule and a look at a situation very different from our own.

FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES

The freshman and sophomores participated in some interesting activities to commemorate Martin Luther King Day. These provided an eye opening look at social behavior, namely that between minorities and majorities.

Early in the day, the classes separated into halves to watch two movies, Mississippi Burning and The Life of Miss Jane Pittman. Afterwards, small groups of students and faculty members met to discuss the movies and feelings about racism.

Following lunch, everyone reconvened in the auditorium. Two groups played a game which was meant to emphasize the relationships and behaviors that exist between minorities and majorities. The game proved itself to be an effective demonstration: the frustrations of the "minority" in the game were readily voiced.

The day went well. Everyone came away with plenty to think about.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

RUG RATS

It has been another great session of Rug Rats. This is the fourth year and our first four-year Rug Rat Instructor, Ben Anderson. This was the first year that Sunday River got involved with the program and it showed with the improvement in teaching. We suffered with the injuries of Marc Vincent, who was out most of the session, Ben Anderson who had a cast on for two weeks but kept on skiing, and the loss of Eric Bennett.

We would like to thank Mr. Lawrence and Mrs. Graham for all they have done, it would not have been a success with out their help. THANKS, again to the instructors for another great year.

RUG RATS: Top: M.Karatz, J.Johnson, M. Gray, C. Runnett, E.Bennett, W.Hawkes, L.Aguilar, B.Anderson, S.Langlois, J.Fullerton, C.Drake, A.Todd, T.Lawrence (instructor), C.Hohenlohe, V.Lira-Crabtree, D. Bornstein, H.Hammond, J.Walega, S.Morin, H.Walega

Ski Patrol

Drum role, please. Here they come now! Those incredible soldiers for the suffering, clad proudly in red and blue, THE JUNIOR SKI PATROL!! (...the crowd goes wild...)

At the beginning of our adventure, we decided that we'd look pretty darn sharp in those patrol parkas. However, most of us did not realize the amount of work involved in the earning of them. In our fall term the WEC (Winter Emergency Care) course proved to be like a sixth course for us. Reading, work-books, reading, giving up activity period, and reading! When the snow hit, we were psyched! Jackets! Not yet... Hours of outdoor WEC training and sled training, shadowing, fence repairing, sled checking, and backboard building still lay ahead of us.

Of course our season wasn't all work. A little bit of fun managed to sneak into the rigor here and there. The van rides over, for instance, when Dr. Dresser's driving kept our nails dug deeply into the seats and kept us all wide awake.

Each of us eventually earned jackets, one by one. However, by the time that came about, we all had a deeper meaning associated to them. We came to realize that patrolers aren't on the mountain just to look cool and yank passes. They are there to give first aid, ensure the safety of all the skiers, and even, perhaps, save a life.

If nothing else, this season of ski patrol has given each of us a greater respect for the job of those pro-patrolers. We thank the mountain for the experience, Dr. Dresser and Eric Schwartz for their time and dedication, and each of us thanks the other for all the good times.

FOREIGN PROGRAMS

Christine Tournecuillert, Ecully, France

This year at Gould Academy allowed me to discover things I'd never had a chance to experience before and probably will never experience again. I have discovered a different school system, experienced new sports, and life in the country. I particularly enjoyed the NTL program, which gave me a chance to know others and myself better.

This year has been particularly enriching thanks to the hospitality, the openness and the warmth of the faculty, the students, and my "adoptive" family, the Crandalls. Along my path of learning, this year at Gould has been a big, important, and interesting step. Thanks, to all of you. I will always have wonderful memories of this year.

Beatriz Mosqueira, Madrid, Spain

I didn't know anything about Gould or Bethel when I first came here. The thing that surprised me the most is that we had the same friends at school, after school, and on weekends. I love it. At home I had different friends at school and at home.

I see Gould as a huge family all living together. We share everything, good times, like fall and bad times, like mid-winter. This is when, as a family, we help each other through until spring.

Definitely, what I like the most about Gould is the place and the people.

Philip Piltz, Dusseldorf, West Germany

I'm so glad that I came to Gould. It is such a great place. The people, Bethel's unique atmosphere and the close relationship between students and faculty made it easy for me to stay for one year. I felt like a member of one big happy family. Everybody likes each other. Every single person is accepted here.

Thanks, Gould Academy. I have had the best year of my life so far. I wish it could go on forever.

European Exchange: Jacques Perrolle, Molly Hoover, Marlies Ouwinga, Oren Murphy

Eight students found themselves with another family, and submerged in another language and culture this winter. Marlies Ouwinga, Oren Murphy and Jacques Perrolle were in France for three months, the same time that Molly Hoover spent in Spain. Brett White, Martha Newell, Dan Bornstein, and Russell Stein traveled to Costa Rica for three weeks. It was an experience to live by different standards. All came back with a new self-confidence, gained from having to speak in another language loud enough to be heard. All agreed that the trip was worthwhile.

THE FOUR POINT PROGRAM

The Class of 1990 has been a leader in helping develop Four Point Programs. As Freshman, the class went to Washington, D.C., the first to do so. Sophomore year, the class was the first to go to Bridgeport and New London, Connecticut to work for Habitat for Humanity. Then came OUTWARD BOUND, and in the Senior year, the NTL experience. With the exception of the Freshmen Point this year, the programs have continued.

The Four Point Program is designed to put students together as one class in a new environment outside of the normal class day. It takes hard work, but the success has been well worth the efforts. It is a learning experience for all.

ASPIRATIONS

The Freshman Four Point program began on Friday night with a performance by Rick Adams, who worked with us for the weekend. He performed "Old Time Vaudville." We did a lot of improvisation with Rick, and learned hand shadows, and juggling. Well, some of us did.

On Monday, we went to Boston. The highlight of that day was the Monet exhibit at the Museum of Fine Arts. It was excellent. For the rest of the week we worked with the Aspirations Program from the University of Maine creating five skits from nothing but our own ideas.

The Freshman Four Point was one of the most intense experiences I've ever had. In one week of 8-10 hour days, I found myself unknowingly letting other people see a part of me I'd never shown. I was afraid that people would look at me and laugh; instead I got support. I was not the only one to take a risk; everyone did. I remember having ten girls all in one room talking about nothing, but it meant everything. That week made our class a CLASS.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

March 2-8, 1990

"Live and let live is fine, but live and help live is better."

With a rush of excitement, the sophomore class piled into six vans. No one was exactly sure what would befall us in the next six days; we were armed with hammers and dust masks, ready for anything. Half the class headed for New Haven, Connecticut and the other for Bridgeport, Connecticut. The adventure had just begun.

The Gould-Habitat crew was awakened early each morning (by someone's booming voice). We shook the sleep from our eyes and went on to work. "Work" meant any of several things: destroying walls, tearing down ceilings, rebuilding closets, stacking food, even picking up dirty diapers and kitty litter. At the end of a long day, most everyone was still smiling.

The work over, everyone grabbed towels and headed for the showers. There was still a night of fun to be had: basketball, movies, mall-hopping, long talks, and then. . .sleep.

The class was beginning to come together: new and better friendships were in the making. The feeling that we were helping others was good for everyone. It made us see that we had each other.

The intent of the class was to spend our week "giving of ourselves," to "live and help live." We did that. In the end, we realized that we had also given to ourselves, and helped each other live. It was more than worth the trip!

OUTWARD BOUND

Nightmare or Dream?

A month and a half waiting for Outward Bound.

I only had one worry. I was worried about expecting too much from it.

Suddenly, before I knew it, I was in the middle of the woods with eight people whom I usually don't hang out with, and with that huge backpack on my back. From that moment, I knew I was going to love it, and I did, I really did. It was something different from anything I had ever done.

I learned how to work as part of a team, and an infinite number of tricks to use when up in the mountains. Above all, I learned about life. Now I know that I will get out of life what I put into it. I know how to push myself. I learned not to give up and that a good part of one's strength is in the mind. In short, I learned how to live a better life.

For instance, the third day of hiking in the mountains, we were all trying to support Debbie. At the end of the day, it was dark out and we were still hiking. We thought we were going to die and Debbie was cruising down asking, "How is everyone doing?"

We could very easily have given up reaching the peak of Mount Carlo. Instead, we tried a second time and made it.

I pushed myself to go to the bathroom every single night, even though it was pretty cold.

I could tell you many stories and lots of things that I have learned, but if you haven't done it, you should, because it is a totally different experience for everyone.

P.S. I haven't bitten my nails since Outward Bound.

NTL

As we broke down into our ten person core groups for that first day, there was an air of anxiety and nervousness in the room as we thought about how well each of our groups would bond. During the next couple of days, most people felt comfortable opening up to the people in their group. By the end of that week, we had built a bond of trust with the students, faculty, and facilitators in our groups, as well as a feeling of closeness. By the end of the week, we also felt extremely tired and emotionally drained. We learned a lot about ourselves and other seniors in our class.

"Do you want to talk about it?"

EARTH DAY 1990

Gould's Environmental Awareness Committee put together an Earth Day celebration to bring people closer to the realization that personal involvement in improving environment does help; that working for the environment on a small-scale, local level can have an impact on the global community.

The slogan, "Think Globally, Act Locally" was perfect for that day. The town litter pick-up was a small accomplishment, but did not go unnoticed. Information and entertainment were available at every turn often together. Naturalist/ songwriter Steve Schuch from New Hampshire, passed on to his audience at Gould a thought that he had heard elsewhere: "We shouldn't look back with hate, but forward with awareness." Please do, because the environment is the most important and necessary part of life as we know it!

SPRING ACTIVITIES

POLAR BEARS

Some say they are crazy. In the weeks after ice out, they get up at 6:00 am, make their way to Songo Pond (some of the crazier ones even run!), and THEN actually go for a dip! These are Gould Academy's Polar Bears. This year, 23 hearty souls followed leader Peter Rackliffe to the waters twice a week for 4 weeks. All received an ice cube trophy for their efforts. Seven year veteran, Kevin Davis, received a special prize- a whole block! Crazy or not, they have fun.

REC SOFTBALL

What better way to spend a sunny spring afternoon than playing a friendly game of softball? None, according to the enthusiastic group who participated in the premier season of Recreational Softball. Many afternoons they could be seen with Coach Bon Gardner playing next to the Art Cottage. Everyone got a chance to hit, and play the field. (Defense is much easier with five or six in the outfield.) Volleyball or Sardines were in order for rainy days. The culmination of the season was the game with the Varsity Softball Team. All in all, everyone had fun, which was what it was all about.

Rec Softball Front: A.Wight, S.Robinson, D.Torruella, G.Kaufman. Second row: J.Betts, C.Kayser. Back: J.Noaks, J.Pollack, M.Stowell, K. Chester, P. Lothridge, M. Michaud, M.Schaal, M.Sakata, C.Dickinson, T.Williams, T.Chabot, N.Holden, J.Fialkoff, R.Stein.

ALICE IN CONCERT

Under the direction of Carol Fiske, a group of talented actors and actresses produced Alice In Concert by Elizabeth Swados for the spring drama program. Predictions for the play were pretty grim. A combination of factors, including a mainly unexperienced cast, lack of time, and a difficult piece seemed to bring about this lack of confidence. However, when opening night came, the cast pulled it off with a great deal of style. The star of the play, Freshman Samantha Langlois as Alice, did a great job with all of her songs.

Also in the performance were Seniors Peter Greenstone, Alesia Norling, and Kevin Davis. Kevin has starred in the spring musical all four of his years at Gould. There was no question that the cast and crew worked hard on the play and it payed off in the end.

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES

ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS COMMITTEE

The Gould Environmental Awareness Committee is committed to making the school aware of the environment, the dangers that threaten it, and what each of us can do to help save the earth. This year the Committee put its efforts into starting a recycling program at Gould, organizing Earth Day activities, and presenting informative assemblies, including simple things that each individual can do for the environment, (Right) and Christian Dickinson's explanation of the depletion of the ozone. The Committee had an impact on this community this year, making us all more aware of our effects on the fragile earth.

ALLIANCE FRANCAIS

Alliance Francais is a club whose members celebrate French language and culture. Crepes at Madame Ouwinga's house, movies and music all preceed the highlight of the year, the trip to Quebec City in April. This year's trip was as fun and educational as those of preceeding years, and helped prepare one member of the club, Ann Marie Henricks for her term in France next winter. Vive la France!

BLUE KEY

Blue Key members have a very important job. It is they who conduct tours around campus of prospective students and their parents, as well as consultants and other visitors. These students give up their free periods to help the Admissions Office and Gould. They answer questions, smile and put Gould's best foot forward. Without a doubt, we all benefit from their service.

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES II

REACHOUT

Reachout provides a needed link with the Gould community and the outside world. It is very easy to be comfortable in a warm dormitory, with meals provided, and surrounded with the luxury items we take for granted, and to forget that there is another side to the world. Under the leadership of Dr. O., the students of Reachout try to make a contribution to those less fortunate than we, whether they be around the world or around the corner. Through funds raised by collecting the deposit from the mountains of soda cans donated by the Gould community, Reachout supports two Third World children, disaster relief programs, and food and health organizations. Members donate their time to writing letters for Amnesty International, and working on local housing projects. Reachout has won awards for its efforts, but no award can surpass the satisfaction its members get from their work.

Right: Reachout Members: Front: B.Mosqueira. Second: B.Gasser, B.White, M.Gartrell, M.Newell, S.Morin, H.Hammond. Rear: R.Rhu, M.Killmer, Dr. Ouwinga, T.Pena, M.Alexander.

CHOIR

The Gould Academy Choir, under the direction of Carol Fiske, brings together those in the community who like to sing and have fun. The Choir performs on Fall Parents' Weekend (Right), the Yulefest, and Baccalaureate, as well as special performances throughout the year. The repertoire is varied, and their performances are always greatly anticipated.

YEARBOOK

Producing a yearbook is a great deal more work than most realize. Photographs, copy, and white space are the three simple elements on a published page, but as the 1990 staff (left) can vouch for, the simplicity ends there. This year's staff was ambitious and creative, as the reader can quickly tell. Many afternoons, activity periods, and, yes, even Saturday mornings were devoted to publishing a quality book. All can agree that their efforts were worth the results.

GOLD KEY

The members of Gold Key donate their time to working with the Alumni and Development Office. These outgoing individuals are always willing to "shake a hand for Gould." They also do a lot of envelope stuffing, and help out at Alumni Weekend. Participation in the Gould Telethon allows them to really shine. Their calling alums and friends of Gould asking for a donation to Annual giving has made a significant difference in that campaign for several years now. The strength of their numbers indicates the commitment to Gould.

COMMENCEMENT

MAY 26, 1990

The members of the Class of 1990 will never forget their Commencement from Gould Academy. There was skepticism in the air as it dawned a beautiful spring day, and more than one comment bemoaning the indoor ceremony was overheard. However, Headmaster Clough's admonition to "Trust me on this one." proved true as the graduates, their family and friends, and faculty were entertained by Sam Kilbourn, and two excellent student speakers, Validictorian Kevin Davis, and Tom Pena.

Mr. Kilbourn began his unorthodox "speech" by "loosing" his notes and sending the audience on a fun filled search for them. Once found, his well punctuated remarks proved a great parody on the traditional commencement address. Mr. Kilbourn then moved down with the graduates coaxing them to challenge the system by changing their seats and sitting with a best friend. The graduates were reluctant, but finally, Alesia Norling took the challenge and moved next to Willy Somma, if only long enough for a picture.

After a visual presentation with an overhead projector, Mr. Kilbourn moved on to the grand finale. A demonstration of his exceptional talents as an acrobat. (Right)

Although Kevin Davis was sure his speech would be a let down, he was proved wrong. He led the audience through a three dimensional viewbook, and evoked strong memories for all. Tom Pena, the speaker chosen by the Class, also had a moving speech of the tragedy that brought him to Gould, the positive role played by the Gould community, and the triumph of his commencement as a member of the Class of 1990.

After an apology by the Headmaster for not having a Mountain Day, awards, and, finally, diplomas, the Class exited among tears and hugs, and great memories of a very exceptional day.

As we are leaving Gould Academy, and going into the world, we reflect back on what we have learned and we take that knowledge with us into the many parts of the world around us.
